

ART SALON SPEAKER—Wilhelmus B. Bryan, dean of the college, was the afternoon speaker at the Minneapolis Womans Club's 20th annual art salon, which opened Wednesday to the public. Dean Bryan, himself an artist, was formerly president of the Twin City Artists Association. Shown with him looking over paintings are Mrs. Paul W. Latham and William F. Ryan, exhibit officials.

MODERN DANCE LEADER—Mrs. Nancy Hauser, instructor of Modern Dance at Macalester, has performed with her group at numerous programs in the Twin Cities area. The dancers' next public appearance will be a recital on April 26.

Macalester, 63 years old, celebrates birthday

REAL FLAVOR—A bagpiper and kilt-clad students lent a Scottish atmosphere to the Founder's Day Celebration, as they led a procession of faculty and students at the events. The cake bearers, left to right, were John MacDonald, Casselton, N. D.; Douglas Silvernale, Marietta, Minn.; Adam Mitchell, the piper; Floyd Berquist, Moose Lake, Minn., and James Law, Lake City, Minn.

Courtesy of Minneapolis Daily Times

OLDEST PROF—Hugh S. Alexander, professor of Geology at Macalester, and graduate with the class of '99, was given special honors at the Founder's Day gatherings. He has taught 42 years at Macalester.

When Professor Alexander attended Macalester the campus was only a cornfield. Read how Macalester has changed since 1900 in the feature on page 4.

Hugh Alexander
A veteran of 42 years.

FROM A BIRTHDAY PARTY—Miss Grace Whitridge prepares to slice the cake, while President and Mrs. C. J. Turck look on. A party Miss Whitridge planned for Dr. Wallace in 1938 became known as the first Founder's Day Celebration.

TWENTY-YEAR VETERANS—Eleven other faculty members have had more than 20 years teaching experience at Macalester. They are, left to right: Top row: Carl A Jensen, associate professor of Musical Theory and Organ, 23 years; David C. Primrose, assistant professor and director of Physical Education for Men, 22 years; Kenneth L. Holmes, professor of History, 23 years; Mary Gwen Owen-Swanson, '23, professor of Dramatic Art, 20 years; F. Earl Ward, professor of English, 22 years. Bottom, left to right: Margaret Doty, '14, Dean of Women and professor of English, 28 years; Otto T. Walter, professor of Biology, 26 years; Grace Lovell May, associate professor of English, 24 years. Jessie Young, instructor in Piano and Organ, 28 years, is not in the picture.

—Weekly photo by Charles Ebersole