

Welcome, New Students!

College is an experience of the deepest significance for you. It is an adventure in ideas, in friends, and in activities. It is usually the moment of great decision for one's life work. It is the time when values become constant for us and when principles compel us. It is hard work and great fun. To this friendly fellowship of learning and of Christian ideals we welcome you warmly.

HUNTLEY DUPRE,
Dean of the College

Here have we scholars from whom you may learn; here have we a library, laboratories, personality tests, and similar tools to aid in your learning; here have we a company of friendly young people among whom to learn to be of service to yourself, your country, your God, and your fellow-men:—if this is what you seek, we give you sincere welcome.

MARGARET M. DOTY,
Dean of Women

The Office of Student Personnel Services welcomes you to Macalester College. Through our variety of personalized services, we hope to aid you all through your college course. Our door is always open, and we trust that you will come through it soon and often. Come in if you meet with any snag in your college arrangements; come in, too, just to say "Hello" and get acquainted.

KENNETH A. MILLARD,
Director of Counseling

PETER S. MOUSOLITE,

GLADYS H. REUTIMAN,

Your Student Union will provide rest, recreation, and services during your educational adventure. Here, too, you may strive for self improvement and the way to a fuller life. Come in and be at home. Remember that the life you improve may be your own—or that of a friend.

HAROLD A. GOLTZ,
Director of Student Union

It is indeed a happy privilege to extend a friendly "welcome!" to you, the new students of Macalester College. You are a part of a class, but more important you are now a part of the total community at Macalester composed of all the students, faculty, and administrative personnel working together in close harmony.

Providing the coordinating leadership in our community, and designed to meet the needs and wishes of those within it, is the Community Council. It is the sincere hope of the Community Council that each of you will take an active interest in the program and leadership of the Council during your years at Mac—thus assuring the continued fine reputation of Macalester as the friendly College where democracy works for the good of all.

Or they secure the bill to send home or take care of themselves—for payment in cash or check within the first ten days. 3) Still others wish to pay in monthly installments as explained in our 1952 catalog at the top of page 155. We are glad to accept your personal checks, or travellers checks, and for those who are Military Veterans enrolling under the G.I. A FINAL WORD

Don't hesitate to ask questions; everyone who has gone to college was once a freshman.

(This is the official Orientation Week program; please keep this copy for reference.)

MACALESTER COLLEGE

Macalester College welcomes you to a joint adventure in ideas. Some of your partners will be older men and women who have become members of our faculty and have devoted their lives to the tasks of scholarship. Others will be your fellow students, joint seekers with you after the truth. All of them, students and faculty members alike, are your friends. I hope your experiences at Macalester College will do three things for you: 1) convince you that truth is the supreme value and encourage you to pursue it by logic, by the scientific method, and by all the intellectual and spiritual means that commend themselves to your spirit; 2) make you tolerant of the ideas of others who may not agree with you; and 3) exalt friendship as the master passion that will bring the whole world within your concern.

President
